

A group of seven hands of various skin tones are holding a small, square chalkboard with a light-colored wooden frame. The chalkboard is centered in the image and has the French text "Inscriptions au catéchisme" written on it in white chalk. The text is arranged in two lines: "Inscriptions" on the top line and "au catéchisme" on the bottom line. The hands are positioned around the perimeter of the board, with some fingers resting on the top and bottom edges. The background is plain white.
